

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ServiceMaster of Kingston, Belleville and Trenton recognizes the contributions of

Jeff Nolan

March 27, 2023 – If every cleaner in the world took as much pride in their work as Jeff Nolan does, the world would certainly be a gleaming and shiny place! It is Jeff's dedication to his work and his attention to getting the job done right that indisputably makes him not just an essential employee but rather an EVERYDAY HERO!

Since joining us in February of 2020, Jeff Nolan has become an indisputable star of our ServiceMaster team! As an evening cleaner for a city centre building in Kingston, we are guaranteed that the property is maintained to perfection, inside and out! While the building is a high traffic facility housing numerous key local businesses such as a bank, a popular radio station and accounting offices, this does not deter Jeff from the job at hand each evening. His dedication to the cleanliness of the building means that Jeff regularly performs duties above and beyond! Jeff's eye for detail also results in his notation of items in and around the building that may require added attention which he promptly forwards to both us and our customer, a service that our customer has certainly noted as a much-appreciated value-add!

Jeff is so proud of his job that on his third anniversary with ServiceMaster, he took it upon himself to order ServiceMaster t-shirts to represent us!

It is for these reasons and so many more that we would like to recognize Jeff Nolan for being an invaluable member of our ServiceMaster family!

*"Thank you, Jeff, for simply being you!
You are most certainly our EVERYDAY HERO!"*
